

United Board Fellows Program

2019-2020 Program Guidelines

Introduction

The United Board Fellows Program aims to develop higher education leaders in Asia who are committed to advancing whole person education. It provides opportunities for mid-career faculty and administrators to be exposed to leadership concepts and practices from outside their own context, and it prepares them for future leadership roles within their home institutions in Asia. After acquiring vital new skills, ideas, and perspectives during the program, Fellows return home ready to undertake new initiatives and are often promoted to positions with greater responsibility. Since 2002, more than 250 Fellows from over 50 universities and colleges in 11 countries and regions of Asia have been selected for this program.

This one-year experience features three components: an intensive three-week summer institute at a leading higher education institution in the United States.; a semester-long placement at an established Asia-Pacific college or university; and a summative reflective seminar in a major Asian city.

Program Length: The 2019-2020 program will be held from July 1, 2019 to June 30, 2020. (Note that Fellows will be back at their home institutions between each component.)

U.S. Summer Institute: The 2019-2020 cohort will attend an intensive summer institute on higher education leadership at a leading institution in the United States. The institute will offer a variety of workshops on leadership development, higher education management, and relevant topics to broaden fellows' perspectives on today's higher education. Targeted site visits to select American colleges and universities are incorporated into the summer institute, allowing participants to observe and engage with leaders at the forefront of higher education innovation. Each participant will work on a case study as a knowledge product of their leadership reflection. Previous Summer Institutes have been hosted at Boston College (2016-2017) and Harvard University (2017-2018 and 2018-2019).

Asia Placement: During the one year period, Fellows will spend two to four months at a host university in the Asia-Pacific region to observe leadership concepts and practices. This important component allows Fellows an immersion experience within which to observe, reflect, and grow. While in residence, each Fellow will meet regularly with a host institution mentor who will provide leadership guidance, arrange and suggest activities, and provide feedback on the Fellow's progress.

Leadership Seminar: Fellows will convene for a summative conference in a major city in Asia, where all cohort participants will reflect and share ideas on implementing and contextualizing learned concepts at their home institutions. The most recent three seminars have been held in Manila, Singapore, and Bangkok.
