UNITED BOARD LEGACY SOCIETY

Setting Great Expectations
for Our Next Century

Leave an Extraordinary Legacy to the United Board

For 100 years, the United Board has worked alongside colleges and universities in Asia to promote the values of whole person education and Christian service. Our Centennial is a celebration of our history and heritage, our network of colleagues and friends, and our goals for the future.

In our first century, the United Board was blessed by the support of generations of loyal supporters who generously entrusted us with the financial resources that eventually grew into our endowment.

Thanks to that endowment and the ongoing donations of people like you — friends and alumni of the United Board and the institutions we work with in Asia — we have been able to provide crucial program support to institutions throughout Asia.

Your legacy gift to the United Board will help further our mission of supporting education that develops the whole person — intellectually, spiritually, and ethically — in our second century.

You can make a lasting gift such as the following:

- A bequest in your will
- An endowed fund to support the United Board and/or our valued partner(s)
- Life insurance policy and/or beneficiary designation
- Charitable remainder trust
- IRA and other retirement plans

Blessed by Loyal and Generous Supporters

Dr. William K. Lee

Former United Board Trustee

Dr. William K. Lee served as a trustee from 1997-2017 but his relationship with the United Board began decades earlier. When he was a student at Yonsei University in Seoul, Korea, in the 1960s, many of the school's library books were purchased with United Board support. "This was a period of financial difficulty in Korea," Dr. Lee said. "Korea didn't have much access to foreign currency then, so its support from the United Board was a valuable source of dollars." Dr. Lee's career took him from the classrooms of Yonsei to a successful medical practice in northern New Jersey, where he continues to serve his alma mater and the United Board by strengthening relations with supporters within the Korean-American community.

Dr. Lee joined the United Board Legacy Society because he believes in the United Board's mission and impact: "The United Board can continue to work with its extensive network of Asian institutional partners to champion important educational initiatives."

Dr. Judith Berling

Former Member and Chair, Board of Trustees

Dr. Judith Berling's service as a trustee inspired her to join the United Board Legacy Society by including the United Board as a beneficiary of her IRA retirement plan. Dr. Berling is professor emerita of Chinese and comparative religions at the Graduate Theological Union in Berkeley, California. She began her two decades of service to the United Board when she joined the board of trustees in 2002. Her service has included many leadership roles, including as Chair of the board from 2018-2021. Key developments she's seen in that time include increased participation by Asian trustees, continued attention to less developed regions and institutions, and greater emphasis on whole person education.

"I have been fortunate to have been a scholar and teacher during a time when the intellectual world was exploding with new theories and approaches," says Dr. Berling. "I'm making a legacy gift to give the United Board the flexibility and resiliency to help higher education in Asia continue this progress in the next 100 years."

Dr. Dorothy C. Wong

United Board Scholarship Recipient

Dr. Dorothy C. Wong received a United Board scholarship for her undergraduate education at International Christian University (ICU) in Japan from 1977 to 1981. This scholarship program supported 112 students from Hong Kong for over 30 years. Her interests in art history, literature, and philosophy were expanded at ICU, leading Dr. Wong to later earn a PhD in art history from Harvard University and take a faculty position with the McIntire Department of Art at the University of Virginia, where she currently teaches.

In addition to supporting the United Board's programs in women's leadership, Dr. Wong has made a legacy gift pledge in recognition of the support provided by the scholarship she received and its deep impact on her career path. She shares that "The United Board Scholarship offered me a path to a liberal arts education, the value of which I did not fully understand until many years later."
