

ALUMNI WEBINAR SERIES

A Workshop on Supporting Educators: Integrating AI into Teaching, Learning, and Leadership in Asian Higher Education

Session 5 of a 5-Part Series -

Preparing Students for the AI-Driven Workplace

To help educators prepare students with the digital, ethical, and adaptive skills needed to thrive in AI-influenced career paths.

About the Workshop Series

This 5-part series, running bimonthly from July 2025 to April 2026, equips United Board Alumni with practical tools, ethical insights, and strategic approaches to integrate AI in higher education—while upholding the values of whole person education and fostering responsible, future-ready leadership.

Prof. Zhu Xi

Associate Professor
School of Artificial Intelligence
The Chinese University of Hong Kong, Shenzhen

April 22, 2026

11:30 AM (IST) / 02:00 PM (HKT)

A Zoom link will be sent to your registered email address

Key Focus Areas of the Workshop:

- ✓ Understand the key AI skills and mindsets required in today's job market
- ✓ Identify interdisciplinary approaches to teaching AI literacy
- ✓ Embed workplace-relevant AI competencies into existing curricula
- ✓ Explore partnerships and tools to bridge classroom learning and real-world AI applications

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER